

Jeff Jaffee, Compliance Director with Freddie Mac, is a seasoned executive with regulatory compliance and regulatory relations experience at large banks and at mortgage companies. He has over 30 years of industry experience in directing originations, servicing, technology, and third-party oversight. His subject matter expertise includes fair lending, Unfair, Deceptive, or Abusive Acts or Practices (UDAAP), the Servicemember Civil Relief Act (SCRA), the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA), the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). He has spoken at several conferences on CRA, Fair Lending and HMDA.

At Freddie Mac, Jeff is responsible for consumer protection compliance.

Prior to joining Freddie Mac, Jeff held senior compliance leadership positions with Bank of the West, including Senior Vice President, Protecting the Interests of Clients, where he was responsible for US consumer protection laws including ECOA, FHA, UDAAP, UDAP, GLBA, CCPA, ADA and CRA. He was a member of the Enterprise Leadership Team and presented regularly to senior management and the Board of Directors. Prior to Bank of the West, Jeff was the Chief Regulatory Affairs Officer for CitiMortgage, where he managed the firm's interactions with internal and external stakeholders. Prior to CitiMortgage, Jeff was the VP of Consumer and Community Affairs at Saxon Mortgage, where he managed engagements with regulators, attorneys general, and other stakeholders. Jeff was also the Mortgage Product Director for retail mortgage for Citi in EMEA where he led the rollout of mortgage lending in several EU countries. Prior to that, he was the CRA and Fair Lending Director for Citigroup, where he managed the CRA and fair lending examinations for 11 legal vehicles, managed the HMDA and CRA data processes and wrote several corporate policies. He has also been a leader in mortgage technology projects and was a retail branch manager and mortgage sales executive.

Jeff holds a BA in Government from Georgetown University.